

WASHINGTON'S FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

SOLIDITY AND GROWTH.

Thirty-six years ago Washington had four national banks, with total resources of $4,473,325.

To-day Washington has eleven national banks, with total resources of $44,255,040, and it has 18 savings banks and trust companies, with about an equal amount.

The combined resources of all Washington banks is $89,744,352.37.

The combined deposits of all Washington banks are $60,219,393.26.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1909